

Missy Makanui is the Director of Leadership Development for a large privately-held software company. She leads a team of development practitioners that work closely with business leaders to assist them in enhancing their skill sets and engage more effectively with their teams.

Missy has been teaching and consulting at the university and corporate levels for over twenty-five years. Missy is a Certified Master of The Leadership Challenge and has been using The Leadership Challenge and the LPI in her work since 2003. She is a certified instructor of multiple leadership, facilitation, and interpersonal skills programs. Missy is a coach, a facilitation practitioner, and a business consultant. She uses her expertise to assist her business partners in defining objectives, identifying obstacles, and creating paths to achieve business results.

Missy holds a M.A. in Interpersonal and Organizational Communication and a B.S. in Business Administration, both from The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She is a graduate of The Coaches Training Institute and a member of the International Coaching Federation (ICF) and the Organizational Development Network.

During her free time, Missy enjoys cooking, swimming, and spending time with her husband, two daughters, and family dog, Tanner.
