Empower Leadership at Every Level

WILEY

It's Time to Unlock the Power of Leadership at Every Level

What if everyone, at every level, in your organization had the skills to quickly adapt to the influx of change that every workplace is facing? What if everyone, at every level, was empowered to engage meaningfully with their work, inspire one another, and challenge themselves to seek innovative solutions that elevate the entire organization? What if everyone, at every level, behaved like a leader?

Organizations are facing unprecedented levels of change and challenge due to technological innovations, evolving work models, and increasing global competition, just to name a few. To keep pace and overcome the obstacles of today and tomorrow, organizations need to take a different approach to leadership.

Thanks to the work of James Kouzes and Barry Posner, authors of The Leadership Challenge, we know that everyone can be a leader – it just takes the right framework and frequent practice to thrive.

The Leadership Challenge® Self Empowered™ can help your organization create a culture of empowerment that inspires everyone to make an impact from wherever they are.

What Is The Leadership Challenge® Self Empowered™?

Based on the data-driven framework of The Five Practices of Exemplary Leadership®, Self Empowered™ is an assessment and facilitated learning experience designed to help grow and develop leaders.

Powered by the LPI®: Leadership Practices Inventory®, Self Empowered introduces individuals to the language of leadership through the lens of their own behaviors. Everyone receives a personalized report with narrative feedback about their leadership skills and behaviors. Their report includes individualized tips and guidance on what leadership skills they naturally utilize and the areas where they can improve. The facilitated learning experience that follows brings the insights from the report to life with impactful activities, discussions, and video featuring real-world situations. Through this experience, leaders begin to recognize and act on their own natural leadership abilities and are armed with definitive actions they can take to grow.

The assessment and learning experience are designed to be beneficial for anyone at any level, but especially for those who are beginning their leadership journey. Start your people on the path to exemplary leadership by giving them the confidence and clarity on how to behave like a leader and make a difference in their organization right now – no matter their role.

The Leadership Challenge is a proven, data-based leadership model built around

The Five Practices of Exemplary Leadership®:

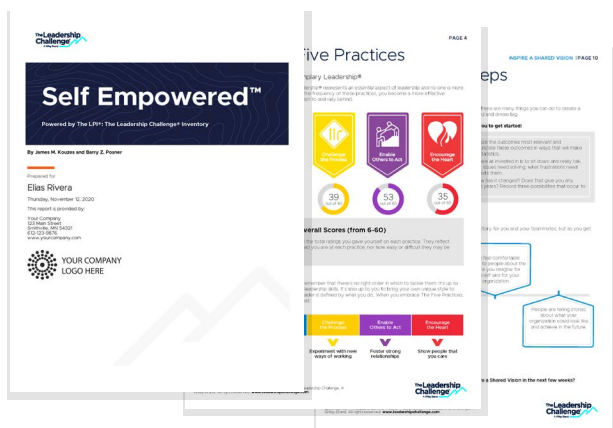

Each practice consists of measurable behaviors that effective leaders do frequently when they're at their personal best.

How Does It Work?

The Assessment

The experience begins with a self-assessment powered by the LPI®: Leadership Practices Inventory®. The LPI is a rigorously validated instrument, developed by James Kouzes and Barry Posner, which is backed by 35+ years of research and trusted by more than five million leaders worldwide.

The Report

After taking the assessment, each leader receives an individualized report of their assessment results with a personal narrative about their leadership behaviors and areas where they can take action to grow as a leader. With a high level of detail and actionable takeaways, the report delivers personalized insights to build self-awareness and spark definitive action for development.

The Facilitation

The learning culminates in a half-day facilitator-led, in-person or virtual training session which brings the personalized insights from the leader's report to life with powerful activities and impactful discussions. The learning experience engages the leader in action planning and inspires commitment to continue their leadership development.
